About UC&RG Northern

The University College & Research Group Northern is one of ten regional branches of the CILIP UC&R Group.

UC&RG Northern provides a focus for continuing professional development for university, college and research library and information staff in the region.

Our aims are:

- i. To provide a focus for Continuing Professional Development for university, college and research library and information staff in the region
- ii. To anticipate and respond to emerging issues within the library and information environment
- iii. To provide continuing opportunities for the sharing of experience, best practice and debate between library and information staff in the region.
- iv. To work in close collaboration with national and local groups
- v. To promote the UC&RG within the region and encourage both participation and new membership.

The UC&RG Northern committee comprises representatives from local universities and colleges. It meets on a regular basis, plans activities, and acts as a lively and proactive network of cross-sectoral information professionals.

What we do

Each year the committee organises:

Events featuring expert and prominent speakers on topical subjects. Recent examples include:

- What do they really really want? Student expectations
- Plagiarism, Referencing and Turnitin

Visits to local and regional libraries, such as:

- New College Durham Learning Resources Centre
- University of Edinburgh Library
- Queen Margaret University Library, Edinburgh

An annual fun-filled prize quiz: a chance to test your brain power with work colleagues, family or friends.

Sponsorship of a free place at either UMBRELLA or at CILIP UC&RG and CoFHE conference:

This offer is open to personal members of CILIP who live or work in the UC&RG (Northern) region or to University of Northumbria students on a library course, who would be first time attendees of the conference.
